At Wexford House in Denver, it pays to get involved. Residents of the DePaul Senior Living Community in Denver earn "Wexford Bucks" to spend in the Wexford General Store by participating in activities such as bingo, arts and crafts and beach ball volleyball.

Store items are made available through Christian Ministries and donated by residents' family members and community groups such as churches and local schools. Popular items include jewelry, tissues, lotion and other hygiene products, music CDs or DVDs, non-perishable snacks, socks, craft items, games and puzzles.

For more information on Wexford House, contact administrator Pam Morrell at 704-489-2633 or find the house on Facebook.
