

SENIOR COMMUNITY REWARDS RESIDENTS

DENVER – Wexford House, a DePaul Senior Living Community in Denver, has begun a program for its residents to encourage involvement in activities.

Residents can earn “Wexford Bucks” by participating in activities such as bingo, arts and crafts and beach ball volleyball. They can then use those “bucks” to shop at Wexford General Store.

The store is supplied with items provided by Christian Ministries and donated by residents’ family members and community groups, such as churches and local schools.

Popular items include jewelry; tissues, lotion and other hygiene products; CDs or DVDs; non-perishable snacks; socks; craft items; games and puzzles.

The community’s administrators say the store has been a big hit so far and they are excited to continue the program.
