

Twelve Oaks residents go fishing

Submitted photos
Twelve Oaks resident Carl Murray ties a lure onto his hook before casting his line into the fishing pond at Westwood Park.

A worm on the hook, a flick of the wrist and then it was a matter of waiting and watching the bobber for a bite.

Residents of Twelve Oaks, a DePaul Senior Living Community in Mount Airy, recently cast their lines into the fishing pond at Mount Airy's Westwood Park during an outing there. Residents enjoyed the serene tranquility of sitting on the handicapped accessible dock and reeling in some fun.

"Unfortunately they didn't catch any fish but I don't believe it took any fun out of themselves waiting for it to happen," said Activities Director Anna Burford.

For more information about Twelve Oaks, please contact Administrator Penny Haynes at (336) 786-1130 or visit us on Facebook.

David Brown smiles for the camera while fishing at Westwood Park.

Marie Simpson relaxes while waiting to see if the fish are biting during a recent Twelve Oaks outing at Westwood Park in Mount Airy.

A view of the pier where several Twelve Oaks residents spent some time fishing recently on an outing to Westwood Park.