opportunity to stay active and social is an important aspect of our senior living programs, and the Olympics are another fun way for our residents to get involved in something new and exciting," Tanya MacNaughton of DePaul said in a statement.

Residents from Westwood Commons in Chili, Woodcrest Commons in Henrietta, Horizons in Canandaigua, as well as communities in Buffalo, Kenmore and Cheektowaga took part. The Shire at Culverton also sponsored teams.

The residents competed in events such as a spelling bee, shuffleboard, a putting green and bean bag toss, bowling, Wii Bowling, word search and ladder golf.

Cathy Toney, activity director at Westwood Commons, left, congratulates resident Susie Rath, who though legally blind, had just made a successful toss in the beanbag toss competition at the seventh annual DePaul Senior Olympics.
