

CORNING MUSEUM OF GLASS

Doug Kurlan stands by a truck that "delivers" glass flowers. SUBMITTED

The science of glass

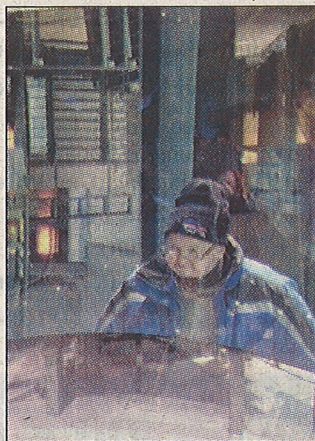

Submitted to The Post

Residents of Woodcrest Commons, a DePaul Senior Living Community, enjoyed seeing what happens when you combine the science of glass with art during a visit to The Corning Museum of Glass. From learning about fiber optics and viewing over 35 centuries of artistry in the galleries to watching glass blowing demonstrations, residents were fascinated by the wide variety of things that can be made from glass.

Pictured here,

Woodcrest Commons residents Dick Wagner and Doug Kurlan enjoy some of the exhibits at The Corning Museum of Glass. Woodcrest Commons residents Kathy Lacina, John Hicks and Mary Male recently explored The Corning Museum of Glass.

Dick Wagner watches the glass-making process. SUBMITTED

Kathy Lacina, John Hicks, and Mary Male check out the winter snowman display at Corning Museum of Glass. SUBMITTED