Local organizations honor community veterans. The Henrietta Senior Center, Woodcrest Commons and the Ely Fagan American Legion Post 1151 are teaming up once again to honor community veterans on Veterans Day, Monday, Nov. 11. At 11:30 a.m., the Ely Fagan Post will present a flag-raising ceremony at the Henrietta Senior Center (515 Calkins Road, Henrietta), followed by lunch, entertainment and a special ceremony honoring all veterans. A donation of $3.50 is requested for the lunch; reservations are required by Friday, Nov. 8. Call the Henrietta Senior Center at (585) 359-2540, or visit the center to reserve your seat.

RIT breakfast honors veterans with campus ties. On Monday, Nov. 11, RIT will host its third annual Veterans Day Breakfast. The celebration, scheduled from 8 to 10 a.m. in the Gordon Field House and Activities Center, pays tribute to individuals who serve or have served honorably in uniform. In addition to recognizing returning veterans currently enrolled at RIT, members of the campus community who have relatives serving in uniform will also be acknowledged.

All members of the campus community are invited to attend the Veterans Day Recognition and Celebration. The Gordon Field House and Activities Center is located on the RIT campus (One Lomb Memorial Drive, Rochester). For more information and to RSVP, contact Amanda Rubacha at 585-475-7500 or amrpro@rit.edu.

YMCA waives membership fees for military and veterans. The YMCA of Greater Rochester is celebrating Veterans Day and Military Family Month by waiving all joining fees for veterans and active-duty military personnel and their families (who are not currently YMCA members) between Nov. 3 and 11. The Y has partnered with the Veterans Outreach Center for this promotional effort. New YMCA members will receive access to personal training, state-of-the-art facilities, group exercise classes, prevention programs and more.

For information on the YMCA of Greater Rochester's Veterans Day promotion, or to receive the promotion, stop by the membership desk of any YMCA of Greater Rochester branch or join online at rochesterymca.org/veterans-week.

The Southeast YMCA is close to Henrietta residents, located at 111 E. Jefferson Road, Pittsford.
