Seniors soak up summer

DENVER – Residents at Wexford House have been soaking up the summer sun.

Residents recently reeled in some fresh air and a few fish at Lake Norman with assistance from Administrative Assistant Chris Brown, Activities Director Tabatha Funderburk and her 14-year-old son, Brian Funderburk.

Mandy Carver and Richard Taylor enjoyed fishing while Evelyn Simmons and Joyce Beard sunbathed on the banks. The activity wrapped up with a hamburger and hot dog barbeque.

Wexford House residents also exercised their green thumbs in gardening club.

Eileen Ellis and Frank Carson helped brighten up the senior living community's back patio by planting flowers donated by Garden Shed and More, Tractor Supply in pots donated by residents' families.
