Residents enjoy Crawdads game

Special to The News Herald

Senior Day at the Hickory Crawdads was a home run for the residents of Cambridge House, a DePaul senior living community in Hildebran.

Residents and staff got the royal treatment with reduced admission, complimentary snacks and beverages. When a seating mix-up arose, staff at the stadium invited seniors to enjoy the game from a suite complete with a shaded balcony, lounge chairs, private restrooms and more. Residents enjoyed hot dogs, chips and a drink with the cost of admission, and some Dippin' Dots for dessert. There was plenty of cheering for the home team and dancing to the music.

"We are planning on attending all of the senior day games, and we are so excited about each one," said Gabby Houston, activities director. "It was a perfect day for a ballgame and a day the seniors won't soon forget. Thank you to the Hickory Crawdads for the incredible experience."
