Community showered with kindness

DENVER – Residents at Wexford House, a DePaul senior living community, recently were treated to hygiene care packages and sweets delivered through local organizations.

Members of the Thankful Obedient Women Expressing Love Club donated bags filled with body wash, puzzle books, socks and more to residents. The group also sang hymns with the residents.

“We’re helping each other, being blessed and expressing our love,” club member Arlinda Sherard said. “God blessed us so we can bless others.”

Residents were also treated to an ice cream social hosted by the staff at the Food Lion on N.C. 16.

“We had a wonderful time,” store manager William Cloud said. “The residents and staff members were super ecstatic. It was such a humbling experience to connect with all of them.”
