

Glenwell residents find plentiful reasons to celebrate, use virtual reality technology

Residents at Glenwell, a DePaul Senior Living Community in Cheektowaga, have been celebrating many things, large and small, as winter moves into spring.

A recent celebration of Groundhog day included a match the shadow to the groundhog game and Teddy Grahams in a pudding cup.

Residents also recently celebrated winter spirit with a snowman sock craft and learned about the history of ice cream during a virtual tour of ice cream parlors around the world using Rendevar virtual reality technology.

Next, residents celebrated Black History Month including Assistant Resident Care

Catherine Wilkins celebrates Groundhog Day at Glenwell, a DePaul Senior Living Community in Cheektowaga.

sugar cookies, heart paintings and games, including finish the lyrics to the love song.

Director Rhonda Roberts dressing up for the occasion. Residents once again used the facility's virtual reality technology to explore Black History and enjoyed soul food prepared by the Dietary Department and read poetry and listened to music of the Civil Rights Movement. Posters featuring African American and Black scientists, politicians, singers, writers, political activities, dancers, athletes, investors and artists were also on display in the halls.

Finally, residents celebrated Valentine's Day with heart-shaped red velvet