CANANDAIGUA — Competition and camaraderie were on display at the Trolley Station Apartments during the fifth annual Bean Bags and Barbecue competition held recently.

Following a cookout in the courtyard, first responders from across the area were paired up with residents of the Trolley Station Apartments for the beanbag toss competition.

State Sen. Pam Helming and Canandaigua Town Supervisor Jared Simpson stopped by to support participants, which included members of the New York State Police, the Ontario County Sheriff's Office, the City of Canandaigua Fire Department, and the Mental Health Association of Rochester.

In addition, Helming recognized Trolley Station Apartments Property Manager Melissa Dymond with a New York State Commendation Award for her quick-thinking and fast response to an emergency situation in which a resident required the Heimlich maneuver. Dymond's decisive action helped ensure the resident's safety.

Wegmans, Canandaigua Quick Print, and Friends of Liz Wiatrowski provided donations for the event.
